

Abstract of the Disclosure

A hydrogel contact lens is described, the HEMA basic material of which is copolymerized with SPE and amino acids. The water retention 5 capability and the refractive index of the resulting contact lens are similar to those of the natural cornea.